bracey s book will be welcomed as an example of a new technique applied to the solution of an urgent rural problem the problem briefly is whether our ancient market centres and administrative boundaries are still the effective centres and boundaries of everyday rural life and if not what are it is a problem upon which many people are ready to generalize but dr bracey sheds new and clearer light on the problem by county according to bus services shopping centres banking areas nursing associations national farmers unions women s institutes british legion boy scouts etc etc and from all these items he builds by sound statistical methods a concept of median areas that correspond to the realities of today in addition he makes a still closer study of one typical village and of the professional social and commercial services it provides dr bracey is a member of the reconstruction research group of bristol university and his investigation has the support of the planning department of wiltshire county council within the county this book will be of immediate local interest in every parish elsewhere it will serve as an example and guide to all students of similar problems today it can be read in its historical context
